HAA Alumni Focus

Anna Raginskaya (HAA Class of '11) is a financial advisor with the Blue Rider Group at Morgan Stanley, a boutique, women-led practice that supports clients in arts and culture with their investment needs. Anna focuses on the Blue Rider Group's engagement with the art and impact investing communities and strategic planning for non-profit clients. As an Investing with Impact Director, Anna connects clients to the deep resources of Morgan Stanley's Institute for Sustainable Investing, and helps clients use their investments to advance change in areas of environmental and social justice. In addition to addressing their clients' financial needs, the Blue Rider Group facilitates introductions between philanthropists and non-profits, raises awareness about organizations and helps support cultural projects.

Anna writes and speaks frequently on the topic of sustainable investing for arts organizations, and has moderated and spoken on panels for the American Alliance of Museums, Grantmakers in the Arts, and the Theater Communications Group conferences. Anna earned her BA in History of Art and Architecture from Harvard College and MBA from Harvard Business School. She is a partner of the VIA Art Fund, a board member of PAIAM (Professional Advisors to the International Art Market), and a guest instructor in the Bronx Museum's Artist in the Marketplace (AiM) program.
